Dear Harold:

Your information shows your Robert C.¹ HUTSON b. 1807 NC. I presume you have no information to show where in NC, Tenn., Ala. and Miss. he lived before moving to Loneoke Co., Ark., in 1849.

There is some evidence he may -- or may not -- have lived in Benton Co. (now Calhoun Co.), Ala. Members of the Mt. Pisgah Church there included HUDSONs and Robert HUTSON, who d. 1843. Thomas W. HUTSON also was a member. His wife was nee Elizabeth DONALDSON.. William B. HUTSON and wife, Rebecca, were members 1836. One Thomas W. HUDSON m. Mary Ann GRAHAM there 1844 -- married by the pastor of the church. Descendants of Thomas W. (Whitfield) HUDSON, living in Texas, are members of HFA(S).

Your Robert C.¹ HUTSON was in Winston Co., Miss., by 1840, where he was associated with HUTSONs and HUDSONs. Would you be surprised to learn that his wife, Elizabeth HILL, was a widow when Robert married her? Her father was Starkie HILL. Her first husband was named HARTLY (or HARTLEY), given name unknown now. She d. there in 1843.

....Winston Co., Miss., 1840 census shows the following men:

Robert HUTSON 30/40yours

James S. (N?) HUTSON, age not shown, wife was 20/30

James HUTSON 50/60 (father of Robert C.?) { ?? }

Thomas HUDSON 50/60 (line of Mrs. Joan BRATTON)(from SC & Tenn.)

W. J. HUDSON 30/40

William B. (G.?) HUDSON 20/30 (an engineer)(m. Emelie WOODRUFF)

John W. HUDSON....see next.

.....1850 census:

John W. HUDSON, b. 1813 in Tenn. (probably was b. Dickson Co., Tenn.)

Mary " b. 1823 Ala.....nee Mary HARTLY

John " b. 1840 Miss.

Thomas " b. 1842 " .

Amzi " b. 1847 " .

"Amzi" HUDSON was Amzi Carigues HUDSON. He moved to Panola Co., Texas, where HARTLEYs were his neighbors when I became acquainted with them about 20 years ago.

years, while his wife has been associated with the good work for eighteen years.

John R. Howell, one of Lonoke County's prominent mill men and farmers, first saw the light of day in Madison County, Tenn., September 8, 1841. His father, Dred Howell, was born in North Carolina in 1814, and there received his education, marrying Jeanette Smith, who bore a family of five children. In November, 1850, he moved to Lonoke County, Ark., settling on a farm. The son, John R., was educated in Tennessee, coming to Arkansas with his father. Here he married on December 24, 1865, Rebecca J. Dickerson, daughter of Lawrence and Barthelem Dickerson. The fruits of this marriage have been eight children: Fannie, Ada, Emmett A., Minnie, Bertie, John and Jeanette, the second child dying in infancy. Mr. Howell is quite an extensive farmer and mill man, owning about 200 acres of good land, with sixty acres under cultivation. He has been a member of the Wheel, and has served his township as school director. He was in the Confederate army during the war, enlisting in 1861 under Gen. Churchill, and his first engagement was at Richmond, Ky. He was with his regiment when it surrendered in 1865, and in January of the same year he received a furlough, after which he came home and began farming, not rejoining the army. His wife is a devoted member of the Baptist Church.

Lewis W. Hutson, merchant and planter, Totter Township, is a native of Dallas County, Ala., where he was born in 1832. His parents, Robert C. and Elizabeth (Hill) Hutson, were of North Carolina and Alabama nativity, respectively. The former went to Tennessee when a boy, and later moved to Alabama, where he was married, subsequently going to Mississippi, when Lewis was about two years old, where they lived some fifteen years. Mrs. Hutson died in 1843. In 1840 Mr. Hutson came with his five children to Arkansas, and settled in this county, where he died in 1864, at the age of fifty-seven. He was married the second time after coming to Arkansas, to Margaret Cummings, becoming the father of six children by his first wife: Susan (deceased), Casander (wife of William Johnson), Parolee, Miller, Leonidas (deceased) and Lewis (the second child), the subject of this sketch. Mr. Hutson's widow died in 1885, leaving one child, who died when young. Lewis Hutson was seventeen years of age when he located in Arkansas. He was married in 1852, and settled on the place which he now occupies, though he had nothing to start with but plenty of perseverance and industry. These have contributed to his accumulation of about 1,200 acres of land, 150 being under cultivation. Mr. Hutson engaged in the mercantile business in 1836, in which he is still occupied, keeping a general supply store, and enjoying a liberal patronage. His wife was formerly Miss Jane Cummins, a native of Tennessee, who was born in 1832, and who is the mother of four sons: Robert A., Lewis W., James W. and Edley. Mr. and Mrs. Hutson are members of the Missionary Baptist Church. The former belongs to the A. F. & A. M., and holds membership in the E. H. English Lodge No. 237, at Walter Chapel. Mr. Hutson enlisted in the Confederate army, in 1862, and started with Price on his raid through Missouri, but was taken sick and returned home. He took part in the battle of Helena, and held the position of corporal.

Samuel C. Jackson, the third son in the family of eight children born to Samuel and Martha (More) Jackson, came originally from Madison County, Tenn., where his birth occurred January 18, 1834. Samuel Jackson was born in Sumner County, Tenn., May 7, 1803; was married, in 1820, to Martha More, and moved to Arkansas in 1854, settling in White County. Mrs. Jackson was born in 1808 in North Carolina. They are now living in Lonoke County, and are the oldest couple residing here, being much esteemed for their true worth. The family are of Scotch-Irish descent. Samuel Jackson resided with his parents until twenty-eight years of age, when he was married to Eliza J. Thompson, who died in 1873, leaving two children: Sarah E. (wife of Henry Wallace) and James W. In 1875 Mr. Jackson was married, the second time, to Savannah F. Oate, her death occurring in 1878. His third wife, Teurpie Hargus, a widow, whose maiden

Besides the HUTSONs in Winston Co. about 1850, there were apparently 3 separate groups of HUDSONs, though all were associated in some manner in business or social affairs at times. I do not know the records of these people as well as our member:

Mrs. Joan G. BRATTON
Route 1 - Box 76 J
Oxford, Miss. 38655

Joan has been most helpful in sending records for our files about these HUDSONs-HUTSONs, as well as records from other Miss. counties. As far as I am concerned, she is our "Mississippi Specialist"! I depend on her to correct my errors and for details, when puzzled.

The following is a record, as sent by Joan:

(Deed Bk. G, page 320) 5-18-1843 bill of sale: M. A. E. HUDSON to Robert C. HUDSON.

(Deed Bk. G, page 321) Deed of Release, dated 5-18-1843: Robert C. HUTSON to John W. and Mary A. E. (HARTLY) HUDSON.....Whereas M. A. E. HUDSON is entitled to a distributive share of the property left by the last will and testament of Starkie HILL to his daughter, Elizabeth HARTLY, formerly Elizabeth HILL and afterwards Elizabeth HARTLY and now consort of Robert HUTSON.....In 1843 Elizabeth HUTSON was deceased and M. A. E. HUDSON gave a quit claim unto the other children of said Elizabeth and unto the said Robert HUTSON. M. A. E. HUDSON received for her share a female slave named Louisa.

.....My interpretation is that Elizabeth HILL m. _____ HARTLY and had a daughter, Mary A. E. HARTLY, who m. John W. HUDSON. When Elizabeth (HILL) HARTLY's first husband died, she then m. Robert C. HUTSON, your ancestor.

This adds a bit to the account given in GOODSPEED's Memoirs of Central Arkansas, as sent by you. Incidentally, we did not have that account by GOODSPEED in our files. Unfortunately, many members are not aware they must research HUTSON as well as HUDSON to find records of their ancestors, no matter how the name is now spelled. We have dozens of accounts of family members changing the spelling from one form to the other (then sometimes back again). Brothers adopt unlike spellings, etc. Then the old scribes, who left most of the records we must use, spelled just any way that suited their whim, sometimes two or more ways in one document.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Mrs. BRATTON. You may want to write to her.

Enclosed are BULLETINS issued this far in the membership year, along with your membership card. You will receive HUDSONIANAS from Weldon HUDSON. We are pleased to have you as a Contributing Member.

Best wishes,

Malcolm H. Hudson

P. S. Your Hutson Line will be written for BULLETIN from information you send. Please notice that we try to give the names of the parents of spouses of HUTSONS and HUDSONS and their descendants. Other members may be working on the same line as some you name and can help you with these.

Also, for our files, we want full dates when known for births, deaths and marriages. Most important is to show the county and state in which each occurred. Add the name of the town, if wished, but the county is the important location, since we work by counties and our files are so arranged. (I can find the counties within a state, but the towns are something else!)

For instance, we need your father's full name, full birthdate, county where born, and date and county where married. Add names of parents of your mother. If you are married, please show your wife's name.

We need the same data about your grandparents, Lewis W. HUTSON Jr. and his wife, Martha WHITE.

(We have some CUMMINS data, but I have not located it yet.)

Here is an example of the format I use for members' lines:

John Doe³ HUTSON, b. 3-15-1828 Rutherford Co., Tenn.
d. 2-25-1898 Smith Co., Texas
m. 5-5-1850 Panola Co., Miss.

Mary Jane SMITH (daughter of Jeremiah SMITH & Leona ROBERTSON)

One page, using this format, is filed for each member. It is complete, useful for quick reference, has dates in proper sequence where they are easy to compare. If a bit of data is not known, that space is left vacant, so it can be filled in when and if later learned.

I hope you can send the additional information soon, since we have a deadline on material going into next BULLETIN.

Dear Mr. Hutson:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of 30 Octboer 1992. We are sorry for the delay in answering but we have had much sickness among the staff.

Enclosed are copies of all Hudson material we could find on Winston County. Our veritcle file for Hudson contained no material that would help you.

We are returning your check. There is no charge for what little I am able to send you.

Hope that some of it is helpful and that you do not already have it. If we can be of further service, please let us know.

Sincerely yours,

Kory Hudson

Kory Hudson has been working with Singing River Hospital in the Health Information Management Services for three weeks. Seven years ago at another hospital, he was given an opportunity to work in electronic record keeping. "I was given a chance in 2001 to manage the implementation of electronic medical records and I have been in the industry since then," he said. Hudson lives in Long Beach with his wife, Grace, and they have two sons. Hudson likes to play basketball and flag football.

JOSEPH IRVAN, son of Joe and Rose Hudson of Lucedale, is 2 years old today. Grandparents are Nancy and the late Penny Hudson, Lucedale; Velma and the late Irvan Tanner, Hurley.

In the path of progress

New bridge will displace couple, home and old oak

By MIKE WIXON

SPECIAL TO THE SUN HERALD

PASCAGOULA — For almost 150 years, the corner of Pine Street and Laurel Avenue has been shaded by a giant Live oak tree.

J.V. and Ida Hudson have lived in the tree's shadow for 63 of their 71 years of marriage. They have had many a picnic on a hot summer afternoon under the sprawling branches of the stately tree with their four children, seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The tree has become as much a part of their lives as their 101-year-old home. "It's like a member of the family," Ida Hudson, 89, said.

But by the end of this century, a $40 million, eight-lane, high-rise bridge over the Pascagoula River is expected to cast a noisy shadow over Pine and Laurel.

Progress will take the tree and the home and force the Hudsons to move.

The new bridge will take the place of the drawbridge on U.S. 90 at the west entrance to Pascagoula.

Angry, bitter and hurt are a few adjectives, but they don't adequately describe Ida Hudson's feelings about being forced to move with her 93-year-old husband, who is bedridden with Alzheimer's disease.

"I'd like to die right in this house," she said, her voice quivering with emotion. "I don't want to go nowhere else. I've cried and worried myself to death. I've shed enough tears in this house to fill it up."

While the bridge is still in the design stage, the Mississippi Department of Transportation has received a $2 million grant for right-of-way acquisition and relocation. The department still does not know the exact number of homes and businesses the bridge will displace.

The department has done some surveying. Blue ribbons are tied to stakes in the Hudsons' yard.

"They done staked me out good," Ida Hudson said.

The original design of the bridge was to take it south of the present drawbridge. The shift to the north side brought the Hudsons' home, as well as the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce building and several eating establishments, right into the path of the bridge.

Ida Hudson believes the need for the high-rise came and went when Ingalls Shipbuilding was in its heyday in the 1970s.

Ingalls is downsizing, and it is west Jackson County that is growing, she said. Those are good reasons not to build a high-rise, she said.

"Pascagoula will just be a place for people to drive through and cash their checks on their way out of town," she said.

She wonders why the old bridge can't be repaired, and said she believes politicians are to blame for the new bridge.

"I don't have no respect for none of them because they don't have none for us," she said. "If they did, they wouldn't do old people like this."

She doesn't agree with the law of eminent domain which allows the government to acquire property in the name of progress.

"It's a law and I know it's law, but it's one of the worst laws in this country," she said.

Ida Hudson, whose brother, Wilbur Dees, was a longtime chancery clerk in Jackson County, spends several hours a day feeding her husband. Her husband is blind in one eye and can't talk. She said if her husband were healthy, he wouldn't stand for the relocation.

"He would have done jumped them in this yard putting stakes down," she said. "He'd run them out of here. They wouldn't have put no stakes down and left them."

"My husband, bless his heart, he don't know nothing. I'm glad he don't because if he did it would tear him up like it's done me."

She doesn't have a timetable to be out of her home, and she doesn't know where she'll have to move to with her husband.

"They can't replace me nowhere like this. This is one of the oldest parts of town. It's quiet," she said.

"As far as I'm concerned all they're doing is ending my life. I might have lived 10 or 15 years longer," she said.

Charles Hudson, one of Ida Hudson's three sons, has tried to help his mother cope with the impending move.

"What makes it so bad is their age and trying to readjust. It's practically impossible to readjust if you've lived that long in one place. That's going to be the big problem," he said.

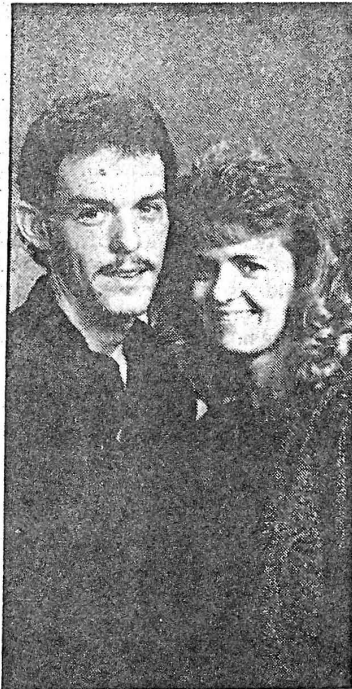

Ida Hudson knows she can't stop progress. She had written letters and made countless phone calls. She said she has thought about tying herself to the tree "but they'd just cut me with it."

Workers with the state transportation department have visited her and told her they understand her situation, but are powerless to do anything about it.

But she said she would like to put the people responsible for the bridge in her shoes.

"I think it would be wonderful if each one of them would get thrown out of their house and see how it feels."

of the children to keep for their children and grandchildren. The Hudsons have 10 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren.

One of the post-war Hudson children, Patricia Elder, said a story in the book that touched her was her father's writings about his first Christmas away from home. He had not yet been shipped overseas and he wanted to have his wife and "the two babies" to spend Christmas with him. But he checked on housing and children were not allowed. He spent the holiday alone.

"All he got for Christmas was a package of cookies," she said.

In his writings, Charles Hudson, who served in the war as an army private, made the comment that he may not have achieved great rank or note in the war, but he hoped that perhaps "he had played a part in making our lives better in this country," Elder said.

"He taught me a lot, particularly respect," said Charles Hudson Jr., who was just a baby when his father left for war.

"He never talked a whole lot about it, but he brought me a bugle and a sword from the war and I have pictures of him as a soldier," he said.

He and his younger brother, Ron, also went to work at Ingalls. "Just about the whole family did," he said.

Ron Hudson said his father was highly respected at Ingalls, where he worked for 40 years. "He always treated folks the way they like to be treated."

"Dad would reflect on the past and even in the unpleasant situations — the war and Great Depression — he would always find something positive to say about it," said Ron Hudson, who was also born after the war.

"He instilled some great values in his children. He really came to appreciate life and he doesn't take any day for granted. He really appreciates being an American and the freedoms we enjoy."

MEMORIAL DAY

Family gathering honors veteran

FRANKLIN CREEK — Charles N. Hudson Sr. didn't talk much about his war experiences when his five children were young, but in recent years the 79-year-old Ingalls Shipbuilding retiree began jotting down his memoirs of World War II.

As a surprise gift on Memorial Day, Hudson's children presented him with bound copies of these recollections.

Hudson and his wife of nearly 60 years, Dolores Hinkel Hudson, were honored at a family gathering at the home of their son, Ron Hudson, on DeMouey Road.

"This is just a special thing, a surprise thing to let him know we were proud of him," said Ann LeMaitre, the Hudsons' oldest child.

Hudson was married with two small children and living in Moss Point when he was drafted in 1944. He served with the Army in Europe, France, Czechoslovakia, the Philippines and Japan during and after the war.

LeMaitre was only three, but she still remembers going to the train station to see him off. "I can remember how handsome he was," she said.

"When I think of that time, I get two different emotions — a sick feeling and a proud feeling," she said. "I was really sick when Daddy left and the only thing they found wrong with me was that I was grieving for Daddy."

"I can remember the hard times," she said. Hudson's wages from Ingalls stopped when he was drafted and finances were tight for the family, as they were for others in the same situation. "I can remember families sticking together and neighbors helping — just little things like that."

Everyone in the community dreaded seeing a man who delivered "sorry to inform you" telegrams during the war, she recalls. "We were just terrified of him," she said. "When he would come to a person's home, we all knew it was a death or accident," she said. "When I was about 5, he came to our house by mistake. I can still remember the look on Mom's face and the neighbor came running over."

But Hudson returned home and three more little Hudsons were born after the war. He returned to Ingalls.

In his later years, Charles Hudson started writing down his memories of war time.

"He had written pages and pages until he got tired and then I started recording them," another daughter, Janice Carney, said. The writings were tucked away in an old chest.

"We had ordered a shadow box with all his medals as a gift for Father's Day. When it came in and it was so pretty, it was going to be hard to wait," she explained.

This sparked an idea to give Hudson the shadow box and his written and transcribed memoirs in book form.

"I typed them up, bound it and put a cover on it," Carney said. They chose Memorial Day as a time to honor their father on his service and her mother on her dedication and strength on the homefront.

"What better time?" Carney said.

A grandchild laminated the cover of the book and decorated it with the memorable drawing of the Iwo Jima flag raising.

Copies were also made for Hudson's two sisters and one for each of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson spent the winter of 1911-12 here, rooming at the house of Mr. Chris Nelson, and no doubt they have a number of acquaintances here who will remember them, and regret to hear of Mr. Nelson's sudden death.

A big crowd of the younger folks enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cox's handsome home on the beach last Friday night, the occasion being the fourteenth anniversary of the birthday of their son, L. E. Cox, Jr. The party was in the nature of a surprise, being gotten up by Lof-ton's mother and his brother, Elmer Cox. The young folks all went down on the 7:15 car and were joined on the beach by others living in that portion of the city, where they proceeded in a body to the Cox home. Dancing and games were enjoyed until the hour for the return of the last car, when all left reluctantly for their homes. Delicious and cooling refreshments were served during the evening.

Discovers Wife Shot To Death On Arrival Home

The body of Mrs. Charles A. Cowing, 914 Reines de la Palma, Pascagoula, was flown Saturday to Birmingham for examination and the ashes sent to her native Texas.

Mrs. Cowing was found by her husband about 8:40 p. m. Friday in the bedroom of the residence, shot through the head.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by self-inflicted gun shot. The inquest was conducted by sheriff J. Guy Krebe before JP Kate Denny, acting coroner.

Although Mrs. Cowing was said to have suffered severe migraine headaches, she had not appeared despondent and had talked cheerfully to neighbors and friends up until a few minutes before her death.

Her husband, a colonel in the Air Force organized reserve and active in local American Legion affairs, became alarmed when his wife failed to pick him up at the end of the day at the sporting goods store where he worked.

No Note By Body

He arrived home to find his wife lying on the bed, the gun near the body. She had been dead about three hours, officers said. Photographs taken a number of years ago were scattered about the bed. There was no note.

About 11 a. m. the morning of the death, Mrs. Cowing visited a friend and pleasantly discussed Mrs. Cowing's new haircut and other everyday matters. She was in fine spirits at the time.

Between 3 and 4 p. m. she telephoned a close family friend, George Lovell, and discussed the purchase of a power lawn mower. Lovell said she was very jolly.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Cowing is survived by a brother, William Church, San Antonio, Tex., and two sisters, Mesdames Oliver Stambaugh, San Antonio, and Philip Kemp, Utah.

~~Hudson~~
Death of Ralph Lewis Hudson.

Ralph Lewis Hudson, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hudson, of this city, died at the home of his parents, on Sunday, May 5, 1918, after an illness of some three months. He was a bright boy much beloved by his fond parents and well liked by his playmates in school and out.

He was stricken with a lingering illness about three months ago, and all that loving care and a skillful physician could do was done to save his young and promising life, but all in vain.

The funeral occurred Monday afternoon from his late home in Telephone Road, preceeding thence to Pascagoula Cemetery for interment. Father O'Reilly of the Catholic church officiated.

ARE NOT LAUGHING

Taxpayers Are Taking Advantage of Quarterly Payment Plan Which Lowers Total Collections.

Jackson, Miss., March 14.—Although the accompanying checks are generally smaller, state income tax reports are being filed by Mississippians more rapidly than a year ago or two years ago, it was announced today at the offices of the State Tax Commission, as a last-minute flood of returns swamped the department. Tomorrow is the final day for filing.

Only $5,298.07 was cleared through the commission cashier yesterday, bringing the total for the month to $25,073.63, but every available employee in the department was put to opening returns, sorting checks and filing reports. Last month on the same day $28,350.56 was chalked up and the February total was $41,293.06, figures released by Chairman A. H. Stone of the commission showed.

The Legislature estimated the new income tax act, which left rates as they were but lowered exemptions, would bring the state $400,000 this year, but officials pointed out that practically all taxpayers are taking advantage of the quarterly payment clause so that returns this month may not run much above $100,000.

Returns sent by mail and bearing a postmark before midnight, March 15, are accepted as legal by the commission and all taxpayers are being advised they may pay by check, the latter to be cleared whenever banks open generally for business.

E. R. HUDSON, SR., DIES SUDDENLY WHILE ON DUTY.

Mr. Edwin Franklin Hudson, Sr., night patrolman for the City of Pascagoula, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the Louisville & Nashville passenger depot where he had gone on his rounds in line of duty. His death is supposed to have been caused by heart disease, and he died in a few minutes after he was stricken, and but shortly after his son, E. F. Hudson, Jr., and medical aid had been summoned. His passing was a severe shock to relatives and friends, as he had apparently been in good health, and had only a few hours before the attack, performed work in connection with his official duties.

Mr. Hudson was born in Louisville, Miss., 66 years ago, and resided there until 1881, when he came to Pascagoula in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. He served the city as marshal for several terms, and also was deputy sheriff at different times.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from the family home at 443 Porter street, with Rev. Father B. O'Reilly officiating, and in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. The sheriff's office and the city hall were closed from 9:30 to 1:30 o'clock in respect to the man who had served so faithfully as an officer.

COUNTY MINISTERS FORM ASSOCIATION.

The Jackson County Protestant Ministers Association was organized at the First Baptist church at Moss

goula, Moss Point, Big Point, Helena, Hurley, Arena, Harleston, Lyon school, Woodrow Wilson, Ocean Springs, Vestry, Vancleave, Pecan, Kreole, Escatawpa, and the Paper mill.

In the performance of my official duties during the month, I have written 69 personal letters, got out 2 circular letters of 95 copies, held 69 office consultations, made 74 home, farm, and business calls, answered 48 telephone calls, sent out 28 Farmers Bulletins, and traveled 398 miles in my car and 72 miles by rail.

Some plant disease specimens have been gathered and sent to A. & M. College for identification. One of these specimens proved to me Anthracnose on cucumber vines on the farms of two of our farmers. This, I am told by the State Plant Pathologist, is the first report of Anthracnose having attacked cucumbers within the state.

Respectfully submitted,
JAS. H. PRICE, County Agent.

FARMERS ADVISED OF PRICE ON PHOSPHATE.

Agent Recommends Oats Be Planted

Crop.

County Agent James H. Price has advised farmers of Jackson county that he can procure acid phosphate for them through the State Farm Bureau at a cost of not more than $14.75 a ton in 200-pound sacks. This is the delivered price. The agent expresses the opinion that farmers would save money by ordering at this price and orders must be placed this week.

Mr. Price also states that he can procure cabbage plants for planting about the fifteenth of October at 75 cents to $1 a hundred. Farmers are advised to plant Abruzzi rye within the next few weeks to insure good grazing for their stock through the winter months. He recommends the planting of oats, rye, collards and dwarf essex rape to provide green stuff for chickens during the winter months.

E. R. HUDSON, SR., DIES SUDDENLY WHILE ON DUTY.

Mr. Edwin Franklin Hudson, Sr., night patrolman for the City of Pascagoula, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the Louisville & Nashville passenger depot where he had gone on his rounds in line of duty. His death is supposed to have been caused by heart disease, and he died in a few minutes after he was stricken, and but shortly after his son, E. F. Hudson, Jr., and medical aid had been summoned. His passing was a severe shock to relatives and friends, as he had apparently been in good health, and had only a few hours before the attack, performed work in connection with his official duties.

Mr. Hudson was born in Louisville, Miss., 66 years ago, and resided there until 1881, when he came to Pascagoula in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. He served the city as marshal for several terms, and also was deputy sheriff at different times.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from the family home at 443 Porter street, with Rev. Father B. O'Reilly officiating, and in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery. The sheriff's office and the city hall were closed from 9:30 to 1:30 o'clock in respect to the man who had served so faithfully as an officer.

Surviving Mr. Hudson are his wife and five children, E. F. Hudson, Jr., E. R. Hudson and J. B. Hudson, of Pascagoula; Mrs. Alma Schmidt of Mobile, and H. A. Hudson of Tyrone, New Mexico. He also leaves one brother, O. H. Hudson of Pascagoula, and one sister, Miss Lizzie Hudson of Louisville, Miss., besides a number of nieces and nephews.

COUNTY MINISTERS FORM ASSOCIATION.

The Jackson County Protestant Ministers Association was organized at the First Baptist church at Moss

goula, Moss Point, Big Point, Helena, Hurley, Arena, Harleston, Lyon school, Woodrow Wilson, Ocean Springs, Vestry, Vancleave, Pecan, Kreole, Escatawpa, and the Paper mill.

In the performance of my official duties during the month, I have written 69 personal letters, got out 2 circular letters of 95 copies, held 69 office consultations, made 74 home, farm, and business calls, answered 43 telephone calls, sent out 28 Farmers Bulletins and traveled 398 miles in my car and 72 miles by rail.

Some plant disease specimens have been gathered and sent to A. & M. College for identification. One of these specimens proved to me Anthracnose on cucumber vines on the farms of two of our farmers. This, I am told by the State Plant Pathologist, is the first report of Anthracnose having attacked cucumbers within the state.

Respectfully submitted,
JAS. H. PRICE, County Agent.

FARMERS ADVISED OF PRICE ON PHOSPHATE.

Agent Recommends Oats Be Planted
in View of Short Corn Crop.

County Agent James H. Price has advised farmers of Jackson county that he can procure acid phosphate for them through the State Farm Bureau at a cost of not more than $14.75 a ton in 200-pound sacks. This is the delivered price. The agent expresses the opinion that farmers would save money by ordering at this price and orders must be placed this week.

Mr. Price also states that he can procure cabbage plants for planting about the fifteenth of October at 75 cents to $1 a hundred. Farmers are advised to plant Abruzzi rye within the next few weeks to insure good grazing for their stock through the winter months. He recommends the planting of oats, rye, collards and dwarf essex rape to provide green stuff for chickens during the winter months.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantages of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by McVea Young, Scranton, Miss.
